

Greetings from Springtime Buenos Aires!

As you enter the autumn season we enter spring! I was so ready for spring to arrive! Spring here means coffee outdoors and late nights at the park! It is common to see children out with their parents walking around the neighborhood or playing at the park until 11:00 or 12:00 at night!

At church we are still gaging the impact of the Coronavirus. Please pray for those who were sick, those who are discouraged and those experiencing financial hardship because of our national economic crisis.

For the Time Being

I am going to offer a guided reflection online on Zoom for all of those who are interested.

Thursday, December 2nd at 7:00 pm Central Time

Meeting ID: 876 3449 6713

I began teaching more frequently on Zoom during the pandemic but I rarely teach in English. This is why I wanted to extend this special invitation to all of you!

We will be reflecting on the birth narratives of Jesus as well as on the poem of W.H. Auden, For the Time Being.

Feel free to invite others as well!

Hospitality at church

To celebrate the fact that we can now return to church and that everyone eligible in our church for a vaccine had at least received their first dose, we had a big barbecue and invited non-Christian friends and family to accompany us. We had a blast with great food, fellowship and live music. Please pray that those who visited our church for the first time may take the time to know more about Jesus.

Hospitality in my home

One of our sister's family came to visit from Bolivia. Our small discipleship group was able to invite them over for coffee and pastries and spend the afternoon with them. They are not Christians and have been very impressed with our church family. Just recently, one of the guys on our mission team sat down with them to continue to share the Gospel. Please keep them in your prayers!

Hospitality in the city

Two weeks ago was the "Night of the Bookstores"! Bookshops all around the city were open till 3:00 or 4:00 in the morning and traffic was stopped in order to allow book lovers to run the streets, listen to lectures, live music and of course, buy books! I invited several non-Christian friends to join our outing and we ended up eating dinner together and making new friends. We even asked a random book lover to have dinner with us! God is good!

I recently travelled with a brother and sister from church to Chajarí, Entre Ríos to visit Carlos and Claudia. Carlos has been studying with World Bible School for a while and decided to be baptized into Christ. There is not a congregation near him so we travelled to his house in order to study with him in person and baptize him. Please keep him and Claudia in your prayers as they grow in their knowledge of Christ.

Thank you for your love and support!
